Motet Faire is the Heaven Harris

Faire is the heav'n, where happy souls have place, In full enjoyment of felicitie, Whence they doe still behold the glorious face of the Divine, Eternall Majestie, Yet farre more faire be those bright Cherubins, Which all with golden wings are overdight. And those eternall burning Seraphins, Which from their faces dart out fiery, fiery light; Yet fairer than they both and much more bright, Be th' Angels and Archangels, which attend on God's owne person without rest or end, These then in faire each other farre excelleng, As to the Highest they approach more neare, Yet is that Highest farre beyond all telling, Though all their beauties joynd together were; How then can mortall tongue hope to expresse the image of such endlesse perfectnesse?
